David Steele Appointed Examiner for 2012 Malcolm Baldridge National Quality Award

David Steele of The Steele Group, LLC located in Indianapolis, IN, has been appointed by Dr. Patrick Gallagher, Director of the Commerce Department's National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST), to the 2012 Board of Examiners for the Malcolm Baldridge National Quality Award. The Award, created by public law in 1987, is the highest level of national recognition for performance excellence that a U.S. organization can receive.

As an Examiner, Steele is responsible for reviewing and evaluating applications submitted for the Award. The board is composed of approximately 500 leading experts selected from industry, professional and trade organizations, education and health care organizations, and nonprofits (including government).

Those selected meet the highest standards of qualification and peer recognition. All members of the board must take part in a preparation course based on the Baldridge Criteria for Performance Excellence and the scoring and evaluation processes for the Baldridge Award.

The Baldridge Award may be given annually in each of six categories: manufacturing, service, small business, education, health care, and nonprofit. Awards have been presented to 90 organizations, including the 2011 recipients: Concordia Publishing, St. Louis, Mo. (nonprofit), Henry Ford Health System, Detroit, Mich. (healthcare), Schneck Medical Center, Seymour, Ind. (healthcare), Southcentral Foundation, Anchorage, Alaska (healthcare). Information about the Baldridge Performance Excellence Program and the application process is available by calling (301) 975-2036, sending an e-mail to nqp@nist.gov, or going to the Baldridge Program's website at <http://www.nist.gov/baldrige>.

The Award Program is managed by NIST in close cooperation with the private sector. ASQ in Milwaukee, Wisc., administers the program.
